The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address Period for Reply
A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION. - Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication. - If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely. - If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication. - Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).
Status
2a)⊠	Responsive to communication(s) filed on 21 May 2004 . This action is FINAL . 2b) This action is non-final. Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle , 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. There are two references that read equally on claim 1 and have thus both been presented.

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claim 1 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by International Application Publication Number WO 99/44055 to Nicholls.

With regard to claim 1 Nicholls discloses a computer implemented method to search a heterogeneous compound database of existing molecules for molecules which have the same biological activity as a known query molecule (see abstract) comprising the steps of defining fragments of a query molecule and a database molecule according to a defined set of rules (see page 11 line 8-27), generating shape descriptors for the query molecule and database molecule fragments (see page 22 line 10-19), and using the shape descriptors identifying the database molecule which has a shape similar to the query molecule (see page 25 line 5-26).

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claim 1 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No.

6,240,374 to Cramer et al.

appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

The applied reference has a common inventor/assignee with the instant application.

Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an

With regard to independent method claim 1, Cramer et al. discloses a method to search a heterogenous compound database for molecules which are likely to have the same biological activity as a known query molecule (see Abstract) by defining fragments of a query molecule (see column 74 line 45 through line 46), defining fragments of a database molecules (see column 74 line 42 through line 44) according to a defined set of rules (see column 74 line 61 through column 75 line 3), generating shape descriptors (see column 74 line 45 through line 48), and using the shape descriptors to identify a database molecule with a shape similar to the query molecule (see column 75 line 5 through line 10).

Allowable Subject Matter

- 6. Claims 2-7 allowed.
- 7. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

The primary reason for the allowance of claims 2-7 is the inclusion of the method steps being searching a heterogenous compound database for molecules which are likely to have the same biological activity as a known query molecule by fragmenting a database compound according to a defined set of rules, topomerically aligning the database molecule fragments to generate a topomeric conformation, generating the interaction energies between a probe and the atoms in the topomerically aligned database fragments at all intersection points in a three dimensional grid surrounding the aligned query fragments, determining the similarity between query and database fragments by the root sum square differences in the field values and identifying the molecule in the database most similar to the query molecule as that molecule having the smallest field value difference in its fragments. It is these steps found in each of the claims, as they are claimed in the combination, that has not been found, taught or suggested by the prior art of record which makes these claims allowable over the prior art.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant should submit an argument under the heading "Remarks" pointing out disagreements with the examiner's contentions. Applicant must also discuss the references applied against the claims, explaining how the claims avoid the references or distinguish from them.

Conclusion

9. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37

CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Anthony T. Dougherty whose telephone number is (571) 272-2273. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday through Friday from 8 to 5.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, John E. Barlow can be reached on (571) 272-2269. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 703-872-9306.
